

SARATOGA CROWD SMALL.

LORD OF THE VALE WINS.

Wise Ones Back Hastings Colt—
Lady Amelia Runs Fast.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.)
Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 4.—That it requires a programme filled with more than ordinary material to bring the public to the races under the present high tariff was demonstrated here today.

There was no stake offering of any sort, and although a handicap brought out four pretty fair overnight horses, the fields for the rest of the contests were of the most commonplace sort. With nothing else to do, it would seem that the visitors would go to the races, however indifferent they might be, but this afternoon's attendance, or lack of it, was sufficient to prove the contrary.

The handicap, which was for all ages, at one mile and an eighth, resulted in the most pronounced reversal of form that has been seen at the meeting. August Belmont's Lord of the Vale, with 126 pounds up, gave Au Revolt five pounds and as thorough a beating as a horse wants.

The other day Lord of the Vale could not run at all in the Saratoga Handicap, and Au Revolt, in his last attempt, ran the distance in something like two seconds better time. Comparing these last two races, the amateur handicappers had no hesitation in installing the Bennett horse favorite. The layers were also wary of him and kept the price down, and he was sent to the post at odds on.

Lord of the Vale in the mean time received a lot of support, both from those who do not care to play odds on favorites and from those who were told that he was "the goods."

The chestnut son of Hastings began demonstrating that the wise ones were not foolish in taking the price against him as soon as the barrier went up. O'Neill had him in his stride in a jiffy, and he virtually made all the running from start to finish.

Au Revolt received an extraordinarily neat ride from Knapp, and for most of the journey trailed indolently behind the field. The Hastings horse had enough left to stall off Au Revolt when the latter finally made his run, and won by a comfortable margin.

In a race for maiden two-year-olds fillies and geldings, at five and a half furlongs, Bald evidently thought he was riding through Sleepy Hollow in an invalid's chair instead of on a horse. F. R. Hitchcock's good daughter, Ornament, through the backstretch Bald was sound asleep, and when he woke up it was because the filly was running so fast that he had to or fall off. He was too late to help her, however, and she was beaten by the favorite.

Lady Amelia, the favorite in a sprint for mares of all ages, at six furlongs, ran the distance in 1:12.4, which is the best time for the race in the history of the track, established in 1903 by the great sprinter Chucunda. Lady Amelia was hard pressed all through the stretch by Rose of Dawn, and it was only because of Lynne's skillful nursing that the former lasted.

PADDOCK PARAGRAPHS.

Last Cherry Will Be Schooled to Go Over the Jumps.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.)
Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Both Catesby Woodford and Tom Welsh have given up Last Cherry, owned by the former and trained by the latter, as poor proposition, and to-day she was turned over to Phil Chinn.

It was Mr. Woodford's first intention to ship Last Cherry home, but before he could do so Mr. Chinn had him, with a view to schooling the fractious filly through the field. Last Cherry was finally declared off, and Mr. Chinn took her to his home in New York, where she will be trained by George C. Hill, who has bought her, and will start her in the fall.

Word was received here to-day that Elmer L. Smith, the oldest member of the Metropolitan Turf Association, was dead at Providence.

LONG SHOT GETS MONEY.

First Premium Wins at 20 to 1 at Narragansett Park.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 4.—The surprise at Narragansett Park came in the third race to-day when J. W. Fuller's chestnut, First Premium, a 20 to 1 shot, romped away from his field and won by five lengths. The second choice and favorite fought out for the places. The summary:

First race (selling; about six furlongs)—Merino, 100 (Travers), 4 to 1; won; Peter, 12 (Perrine), 5 to 2, second.

SCENE AT THE INTERNATIONAL CRICKET MATCH YESTERDAY AT LIVINGSTON, STATEN ISLAND, BETWEEN THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT CRICKET LEAGUE, OF NEW-YORK, AND THE MARYLEBONE CRICKET CLUB, OF ENGLAND.

CRICKET SCORES CLOSE.

LOCALS HOLD BRITONS.

New-York Players One Run Ahead When Stumps Are Drawn.

There was an unusually large gathering of spectators at the Staten Island Cricket Club grounds, at Livingston, Staten Island, yesterday, when the international match between the eleven of the Marylebone Cricket Club, of England, and a picked eleven from the Metropolitan District League, of New-York, was begun.

Each side completed its first innings, the local men scoring 96, which was one more than the British players made. The visitors began the second innings a little before 6 o'clock, but lost the first wicket for seven runs, when K. O. Hunter was called out, leg before wicket, off M. R. Cobb's bowling.

The feature of the day was the closeness of the total scores. There were many pretty fielding plays made on both sides. The low scoring was somewhat of a disappointment, notwithstanding the fact that the groundkeeper had prepared a fine wicket.

The bowling of the local men was excellent, and, despite the fact that Kelly and Worm were injured in the early part of the contest, the Englishmen were pushed to the top of their game. Wyld, for the visitors, made 22, Stow made 18, and Mann was the only other to reach double figures with 12 runs.

The work of Hurditch, wicket keeper for the local team, was clever, and in this respect he was not a whit behind Stow, who played the same position for the Englishmen.

C. A. Worm, who had his right leg injured early in the day, being hit with a hard batted ball, took the batting honors with a well earned 20, which included four boundary hits, each of them good for four runs. Steinthal also showed up well at the bat, as did Laurie and Durrant, the latter carrying his bat for a well played 17.

The team put into the field by the Metropolitan league to play against the Marylebone club is the best one that ever represented New-York in an international game, and, after the creditable showing yesterday, there is a reasonable expectation of victory. The grounds of the Staten Island Cricket Club looked bright and attractive, and the fair followers of the game gathered in large numbers. The clubhouse was unable to accommodate them all, and a large tent was utilized.

The British Ambassador at Washington, Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, came from Lenox for the occasion, and a notable visitor was Lord Harris, one of the best known cricketers in England.

A dinner, tendered by the Metropolitan league to the members of both teams, was given at the clubhouse after the game, and a distinguished company was present.

The scores made during the day were not large, and the bowlers had the advantage. Possibly favored by the ground, the figures of M. R. Cobb and C. A. Worm, of the home team, and H. C. McDowell, of the visiting eleven, stood out as remarkably good performances. The record of Cobb—6 wickets for 46 runs—is one of the best things he has ever done.

Great credit is due to F. F. Kelly, who continued in the game after having his finger badly cut, and went to bat with it done up in a splint. The New-York team was elated to find that at the last minute found he was able to play, and a great deal was expected from him, which he partially realized in his innings of 14.

Worm proved to be one of the best all around players on the side, and after bowling exceptionally well he made top score of the day in a dashing innings of 26. E. H. L. Steinthal batted with much skill and judgment in scoring 26, and in the afternoon an eighteen hole match, the fielding of both teams held scarcely anything to be desired.

For the Englishmen, besides the puzzling bowling of McDowell, the work of F. A. H. Henley with the ball and that of H. J. Wyld and V. A. S. Stow stood out in relief. Henley bowled extremely fast and had the batsmen in difficulties, and his figures were splendid until Worm and Laurie got together and commenced to hit.

K. O. Hunter bowled well for 2 wickets for 14 runs, while G. G. Napier, although not hit to any extent, was unable to secure a wicket. Wyld gave convincing evidence of his worth as a batsman, and his inning of 22 was a capital one. E. W. Mann began well and soon dispatched a couple of balls to the boundary, but only scored 12 in all.

V. A. S. Stow, however, came to the rescue when the side was doing anything but well, and contributed 18 toward the total before his partner lost his wicket.

The wicket keeping on both sides was excellent. Hurditch, for the local eleven, allowing by 5 extras, and Payne, for the Englishmen, giving but 8. Hurditch also made two catches at the wicket. Four men were given out leg-before-wicket during the day—an unusual occurrence.

The game will be resumed at 11:30 a. m. to-day, and if the bowling and sharp fielding of yesterday are duplicated the contest should be completed early in the afternoon. The score:
